

Joseph Kolinger

Joseph Kolinger, CEO of OfficeWork Software and Kolinger Consulting is an expert in software development and project management. As a consultant his effectiveness grows out of more than twenty-five years of experience in managing software projects, coaching project managers, and helping companies turn best practices into actual practices.

Kolinger's track record includes growing no-nonsense project management capability within organizations of diverse sizes and cultures, from Internet start-up companies to Fortune 100 corporations. In addition to more than twenty years at AT&T / SBC Communications, he has held senior management and consulting positions at Kaiser-Permanente, software publisher IMSI, and Fireman's Fund Insurance. His key accomplishments have been the rescue of failing projects and implementation of process, tools, and techniques to ensure repeatable success. He has trained hundreds of management and technical personnel to effectively manage complex projects under dynamic and adverse circumstances.™

By forging his expertise with easy-to-use tools, Kolinger's vision is to help project managers achieve results like rocket scientists, but without having to be one.

Mr. Kolinger holds bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of San Francisco and is certified in Project Management and Systems Development. He is an expert on software engineering management and organizational psychology, and is listed in the International Book of Who's Who among Technical Professionals.
